We invite you to join us and welcome Pat Greco as she guides our Learning and Leadership Forum. Building on our work around Improvement Science, Pat brings a district leadership perspective on putting systems in place which foster this approach. Focusing on culture, leadership, and strategy, you will walk away with next steps for your school and district development.

As Superintendent of Menomonee Falls, Pat Greco successfully used improvement science to develop the human capabilities, organizational and structural changes, and system capacities to accelerate system, school, and student learning. The transformation to a problem-solving mindset has yielded an impressive array of impacts, which include the following: In six years time, Menomonee Falls High School progressed from a federal designation of "in need of improvement" in 2011 to a U.S. News & World Report "top high school in the nation." The district's middle school reduced suspension rates by 63 percent. Reductions in workplace injury claims by half a million dollars allowed the district to redirect the savings to instructional resources.
