The Google Suite for Education has the power to transform learning for students by promoting collaboration, communication, creativity, and critical thinking skills. Tulare County Office of Education and Krause Center for Innovation, an official Google for Education Partner, have joined together to offer educators and administrators a professional learning summit. In each workshop style session, Google Certified Trainers and Innovators will guide participants in designing 4Cs infused learning experiences according to student needs. Participants build skills with Google tools and have the opportunity to create instructional resources to be used in the classroom immediately. Sessions will be available for all levels of technological proficiency, ranging from beginning to advanced.
