Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.

RH.11-12.1
Cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of primary and secondary sources, connecting insights gained from specific details to an understanding of the text as a whole.

Essential Skills and Concepts:
- Analyze the text
- Identify what is explicitly stated in the text
- Infer additional information from a text
- Distinguish between inferences and explicit ideas
- Determine uncertainties in the text
- Identify primary and secondary sources

Question Stems and Prompts:
- What is stated explicitly in the text?
- What inferences can you draw from specific textual evidence?
- What can you infer from the text as a whole? Why?
- Provide several pieces of evidence to support a specific inference.
- What evidence leads you to this conclusion?
- What evidence from additional primary or secondary sources supports your analysis?
- Determine common themes in the evidence you have selected.
- What details help deepen your understanding of the text? In what way(s)?
- How are your evidence selections connected to your insights?
- What was the problem with some of the evidence you decided not to use?
- What evidence is most supportive of your analysis and insights? Why? Justify your thinking.
- Where does the text leave matters uncertain?
- What additional information is necessary?
- Does the evidence come from a primary or secondary source? How did you determine this?

Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.

RH.11-12.2
Determine the central ideas or information of a primary or secondary source; provide an accurate summary that makes clear the relationships among the key details and ideas.

Essential Skills and Concepts:
- Identify the central idea
- Analyze how central ideas interact and build on each other
- Analyze the role of supporting ideas to the central idea
- Provide an objective summary of text
- Identify key details and ideas that support the central idea

Question Stems and Prompts:
- What is the central idea of the text?
- What key details and ideas are included in the text?
- Which elements help to develop the central ideas of the text?
- How effectively do the details provided demonstrate the central idea?
- In what ways have the central themes been developed in this text?
- What themes have been more thoroughly developed than others in this text? How so?
- What additional information could have enhanced the development of the central ideas in this text?
- How does the structure of the text work to communicate the central idea(s) effectively?
- How will you determine what information to include or exclude in your summary? Provide your rationale.
- How does the author help you see the connection between the key details and the central idea?
- In what ways does your summary enhance your reader’s ability to see the relationships between details and central idea(s)?
- How can you revise or restructure your summary to more effectively communicate the connections between your central idea and details?
- How would you objectively summarize the text?

Analyze how and why individuals, events, and ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

RH.11-12.3
Evaluate various explanations for actions or events and determine which explanation best accords with textual evidence, acknowledging where the text leaves matter uncertain.

Essential Skills and Concepts:
- Analyze a complex set of ideas, individuals, and events
- Trace development of ideas, individuals, events
- Explain the interaction and development of individuals, ideas, or events in the text

Question Stems and Prompts:
- What is the development of the ideas in the text?
- Identify the text’s sequence of events.
- How does the interaction of individuals/events/ideas develop over the course of the text? Support with evidence.
- What makes the set of ideas/sequence of events complex?
- Which explanations of events/actions prove most convincing? What textual evidence has been provided in support of those explanations?
- Propose alternative explanation(s) for actions or events that the existing textual evidence could effectively support. Justify your reasoning.
- What is the most critical evidence provided in support of an explanation? How would the absence of this piece of evidence impact the credibility of the explanation?
- Where does the author leave things uncertain?
- Hypothesize benefits/costs of leaving matters uncertain.
- Provide evidence that would refute or weaken a given explanation for an action.

Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including analyzing how an author uses and refines the meaning of a key term over the course of a text (e.g., how Madison defines faction in Federalist No. 10).

Essential Skills and Concepts:
- Understand the use and meaning of technical terms
- Identify key terms in a text
- Demonstrate how the meaning of a word can be refined

Question Stems and Prompts:
- What technical meanings are required and used in text?
- What does use of technical terms in text accomplish? Support with evidence.
- Predict outcomes of using a key term in a text without refining its meaning.
- Draw conclusions about the impact of author’s key words on the text. Cite evidence to support your thinking.
- When is it necessary/unnecessary to refine the meaning of a term?
- Which words or phrases are used repeatedly in the text? What impact does repetition of words or key phrases have on the text?
- How does the author refine meaning of a key word?
- How would decreasing use of key phrases impact the meaning of the text?
- What phrases are most essential to the meaning of the text? Evaluate and provide rationale.

Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.

WHST.11-12.1
Write arguments focused on discipline-specific content.

a. Introduce precise, knowledgeable claim(s), establish the significance of the claim(s), distinguish the claim(s) from alternate or opposing claims, and create an organization that logically sequences the claim(s).

b. Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly and thoroughly, supplying the most relevant data and evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both claim(s) and counterclaims in a discipline-appropriate form that anticipates the audience’s knowledge level, concerns, values, and possible biases.

c. Use words, phrases, and clauses as well as varied syntax to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.

d. Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.

e. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from or supports the argument presented.

Essential Skills and Concepts:
- Analyze a substantive topic or text
- Introduce a precise claim
- Establish significance of claims
- Provide reasons and evidence from substantive text to support claim
- Identify and distinguish counterclaims
- Develop claims and counterclaims fairly
- Organize reasons and evidence in a logical manner
- Support assertions through appeal to logic or emotion
- Analyze and address audience considerations, values, and biases
- Determine relevance of evidence
- Utilize transitional expressions to establish relationships between claims and reasons
- Understand how to maintain a formal style and objective tone
- Provide an effective conclusion

Question Stems and Prompts:

- How can you clearly introduce your claim?
- What reasons/evidence best supports your claim?
- Is the evidence relevant? Are your sources credible?
- What counterclaims can be made? Have you addressed them fairly?
- What data might someone with an opposing argument present to refute your claim?
- How can you support your assertion by appealing to logic (reasoning)?
- Can you support your assertion by appealing to emotion? How?
- What considerations should be addressed regarding the audience’s knowledge values/biases of the topic or text?
- Analyze how consideration of audience impacts the crafting of your argument.
- What words will assist the reader in clarifying the relationship between the claim and reasons? Cite them. Rate their effectiveness toward this goal.
- What makes the piece formal in style? Cite specifics.
- What makes your tone objective? Provide examples.
- In what ways does your concluding statement support the argument presented?
- Evaluate your argument. What makes it logical?
- What areas of your argument are lacking sufficient evidence?
